

PRIDE | CONFIDENCE | MOTIVATION | CONFIRMATION

That's what you instill by recognizing student accomplishments. Bring distinction to your well-rounded students, your theatre program, and your school by having an honor society for your theatre program. Charter an International Thespian Society troupe as the honor society for your theatre arts program.

Earning induction into an international honor society builds pride and self-confidence in your students and recognizes their excellence on par with other honor societies. Assessment, performance, and leadership opportunities at the local, state, and national level build essential 21st century skills.
